Online Relationships – Dating a European Lady Online

How to date a European lady online

Men interested in dating a European lady are often wondering how to meet that perfect woman if one doesn't travel often or doesn't live close to a foreign community. The best way to do this is by signing up on international online dating sites and connecting with tons of beautiful single women. There are a couple of things to consider when it comes to international dating, so here's a little guide to dating European women online.

When courting a European woman online it's absolutely vital to take the next step and move your relationship to the real world as soon as possible. Even if you're planning on dating someone long-distance, you need to make it more real by chatting to each other on the phone or through video chat every day.

There's no point in getting into an online relationship by sending countless emails and texts without ever speaking to the real woman. All women from Eastern European countries have a mobile phone or a land line, or at least access to the Internet. If her profile says she's currently online, you can be sure she's got Internet access and she could talk to you via Skype. If the lady you've been emailing says she doesn't have a mobile phone or she can't use Skype to talk to you, forget about her as she's either not real or she doesn't have feelings for you. It doesn't really matter which way it is, it's just not going to work. Honestly, if she can't schedule a simple video chat with you, how can you expect her to leave her life behind and move in with you?

Beautiful European ladies on international dating sites are looking for a serious long term relationship and they hate staying in a virtual partnership for too long. There are plenty of men out there who send dozens of emails and text messages for months, but do nothing to move the relationship to the real world. They might be scared of rejection or even succeeding, but keep in mind, you do not want to be another dreamer sending Russian or Ukrainian ladies gifts and emails instead of "getting real". If you propose a real life meeting soon after your first contact, she will respect you for it and it will probably place you on top of her list, no one else will be able to compete. Because communication these days is so easy and cheap, it would be a sin to not use it to your advantage.

As soon as you've started speaking to a woman face to face, be it through video calling or Skype, you can think of this as dating a European lady in real life. The next step would be organizing a face to face meeting. You shouldn't wait for too long as she might get impatient and ask you out herself. Remember, you want to be the one doing it. When you start planning for your first meeting, ask your partner whether she wants you to visit her in her country or she prefers to come over and visit you instead. Taking the next step and setting up a personal meeting shouldn't take too long. If you've been talking to each other every day for the past month or so, it's safe to ask her out as she'll be expecting it already.
